MORAVIAN MANOR—A COMMUNITY WITHIN A COMMUNITY™

The Gift of K Pets

What is it about pets that the mere sight of them can bring a smile to someone's face? Visiting dogs, such as Max Mateo and Trio, are an incredible and very meaningful gift to residents of Moravian Manor.

When residents leave their homes and relocate to a retirement community, sometimes their pets are not able to make the transition with them for various reasons. Knowing how pets can quickly become one of the family and leaving them behind can be quite difficult. K PETS helps to fill this void through regular visits. These amazing therapy dogs make such a difference in the lives of the people who come in contact with them. Take Trio for instance. Trio is a three-legged dog who was rescued by his owner and is now a part of the K Pets program. Trio is a wonderful lap dog who happily allows residents to hold and pet him and in return he gazes into their eyes and kisses their hands. When interacting with Max Mateo or Trio, residents who are typically non talkative and non expressive begin to break out of their shells and will smile and talk to the pets. That's a kind of medicine that can't be prescribed by a physician.

In addition to other pet therapy organization, K Pets (Keystone Pet Enhanced Therapy Services) has been making weekly visits to the Manor for over a year now.

Our vision is to be a unique community within a community that excels at anticipating and accommodating the changing lifestyles, expectations, and needs of the people we serve.

Her prior work experience includes seven years at Manheim Township School District as the Administrative Assistant to the Assistant Superintendent.

Brenda Sipel joined the Manor team in October 2012 as Facilities Administrative Assistant. The Last Word

Over the year's I have become more reflective during the holiday season. It is a wonderful time to bask in the glory of friends and family. The season can also accentuate the feeling of loss that comes with life. The last couple of years have been a period of time where we have said goodbye to many Moravian Manor friends in a seemingly premature time frame. I miss the visits from past residents who have shared words of wisdom, concerns, affirmations, and cartoons; especially the Dilbert cartoons picking fun at management . . . hmm., I have had the privilege of discussing the real life issues with some of our residents such as a health diagnosis that is irreversible and the certain end to life on earth. This is what real courage is. Courage is not playing a game of basketball with a sprained ankle. During this period of time it occurred to me that some of my "holy" conversations were indeed my last conversations with that particular resident; there were no more to follow.

Lest I lead readers into the depths of depression I think it is important to recognize the privilege and service that we provide for each other within Moravian Manor. The strong bonds of friendship are built over time and make Moravian Manor a special place. It is quite humbling to think about the content and context of my last conversation with some of our residents.

Somewhere in the distant past I read one of many accounts of the Jewish Holocaust. One elderly lady was still haunted by her last words to her younger brother as they were hauled off in a truck to a concentration camp. She had mocked him because he was wearing a pair of shoes that did not match. Unfortunately, after that day she never saw him again and often thinks about her last conversation. Her last words were not words that she was able to cherish.

Several weeks ago one of our residents requested five minutes of my time. He wanted to pass on thanks to one of our employees for rapidly responding to a request that was made by the resident's wife. The requested service was provided immediately and in good cheer. It turned out to be the last conversation our employee had with that resident. Shortly thereafter the resident's wife experienced unexpected health problems and passed away at the hospital. Her spouse was grateful for that last act of kindness and service; it was so appreciated.

As I signed numerous thank you notes this holiday season I was again humbled by the generosity of our residents and other patrons. There are times in life when thoughts and patterns merge to become a powerful reality. I found myself in a spirit of gratitude for the generosity of our community while at the same time grieving over recent losses. The reality is that one outcome of our community's generosity is our ability to better serve our residents and to at times have the privilege of "The Last Word."

Thank you for your gifts that enable us to engage in holy conversation. Many of these moments will be treasured forever.

Sharing Holiday Cheer

The Christmas Show this year was truly a community event. We had performances from every area of care throughout the campus.

Herrnhut and Herrnhut South were represented in a sing-along choir that involved residents, direct care staff and the audience. I am so thankful to Mike Treier and Sharon Krushinski for their involvement. Health Center residents formed a choir accompanied by Pat Smith and a bell choir accompanied by Mike Treier. They both performed great even with some unexpected changes in the program. The ladies from Herrnhut Personal Care delivered an unusual reading of 1st Corinthians 13: A Christmas Version. We were all laughing as the “Mrs. Magi” from Manor West complained about their husbands. Representing Residential Living this year was the very charismatic Mike Riordan. Not only was he an entertaining emcee, but he also wowed us with his duet with Robin Work. Additionally, the Residential Living Choir really got us in the holiday spirit with their big smiles and enthusiastic singing of “Let It Snow” and “We Wish You a Merry Christmas.”

The staff of Moravian Manor also got involved once again this year in many ways. Robin Work not only sang a duet with Mike but was the cheeky waitress in “Mrs. Magi.” Beaty Miller had us rolling-on-the-floor-laughing with her reading of the “12 Christmas Thank You Notes” and she led the staff choir. Jennifer Shutt and Chris Shimer did their best to recruit some new elves for Santa, played by Steve Folwell, but Dave Swartley and Greg Wethey didn’t quite make the cut and were put on the “reindeer” clean-up crew. One staff member who surprised us with his amazing skills on the steel drum was our chaplain, Rich Theirolf.

We also had the Lititz community involved as the Warwick German Honor Society came in to sing some German Carols at the end of the show. Our music practitioner, Cass Jendzurski, gave a wonderful tribute to one of our past residents, Mac McCreary, and arranged his poem “The Sudden Stranger Star” to music.

I thank everyone who was involved, all the staff who performed and aided residents and all of the volunteers who helped transport. The Show would not be possible without every one of you.

Minivan Campaign A Success

It gives me great pleasure to report that the MV-1 Wheelchair Accessible Minivan and the Marini Harp have been ordered. These acquisitions are the direct result of your generosity and they will surely enrich the lives of Manor residents.

Donations for the minivan total $51,857 and staff and residents are excitedly awaiting its arrival. This vehicle is a transit authority vehicle manufactured for durability, handling, and safety features; and it will be used to provide medical transportation for residents.

Donations for the Marini Harp reached $1,350 which is sufficient to purchase this therapeutic musical instrument. The harp is relatively small, lightweight, and easily portable so it can be used in residents' rooms. It is easy to play and staff doesn't need to know how to read music or have a music background to generate beautiful, healing sounds.

We sincerely thank residents, residents' families, staff, trustees, and loyal friends for your contributions. Your donations have made these purchases possible.
